GET THE FACTS

YOUR FUTURE

Recognizing that 18 was too young for most young adults to be without support, a bill was signed into law in September 2010 giving foster youth the option to remain in foster care and receive services and supports until age 20. The bill is called the California Fostering Connections to Success Act, and is also known as Assembly Bill 12 (AB 12).

Starting January 1, 2012, young adults are allowed to remain in care after they turn 18. This additional time will help them:

• Prepare for their futures through additional educational and employment training opportunities.
• Find and secure consistent and safe housing.
• Build permanent connections with caring adults, including relatives, mentors and community members.

YOUR CHOICE

Remaining in foster care is a choice. Foster youth can decide to leave foster care when they turn 18. They can also change their minds and return to foster care in order to receive extended services and supports at any time, provided they meet the requirements.

Foster youth who choose to remain in foster care after 18 are considered non-minor dependents and they need to be doing one of the following to qualify for services:

• Completing high school or an equivalent program.
• Enrolled at least half-time in college, community college or a vocation program.
• Employed at least 80 hours a month.
• Participating in a program or activity designed to promote employment or remove barriers to employment.

Young adults who are unable to do one of the above requirements because of a medical condition are also eligible for services and supports.

YOUR OPTIONS

There are a number of living arrangement options available to young adults who continue in foster care after age 18. These options include:

• Home of a relative, non-related extended family member.
• Remain in the home of your Non-Related Legal Guardian.
• Licensed or approved foster home, Foster Family Agency (FFA) certified home, Intensive Treatment Foster Care home (ITFC), or remain in (THPP) until you graduate high school or reach age 19 whichever occurs first.
• Transitional Housing Program Plus Foster Care (THP+FC).
• Supervised Independent Living Program (SILP) This is a new housing option that can be an apartment with or without a roommate, or a room-and-board living arrangement, such as a college dorm. These placements will need to be approved and supervised by the county, and young adults may be able to receive foster care payments directly if they choose this living arrangement.
• Group home (up to age 19 if needed to complete high school or if you have a medical condition).
WE’LL BE BY YOUR SIDE

Young adults who receive extended services and support to help ease the transition to adulthood also have responsibilities. They include:

- Creating a Transitional Independent Living Plan (TILP). With the help of a social worker or probation officer, young adults will develop a plan to reach their educational and/or professional goals. The young adults and social worker or probation officer will meet monthly to track the plan and discuss how to achieve those goals.

- Going to Court. Young adults will be assigned an attorney and will need to attend court hearings every 6 months to help monitor their progress.

For additional information about California’s law, visit www.after18ca.org.